Los Angeles-based BH Properties expanded its leadership with the addition of Erik Svensson, who joins the firm as Senior Managing Director and CFO. Svensson's career in commercial real estate spans 30 years, the last 10 with Public Storage.

Svensson, who also will be part of the firm's Investment Committee, will immediately turn his attention to implementing a multi-tiered strategy that includes strengthening the accounting group and improving upon the existing set of systems to better position the company for further growth and expansion.

BH Properties' James Brooks says, "Erik's diverse background in finance, operations and investment management working with both public and privately held real estate firms will be invaluable to further the growth of BH Properties in these extraordinary times and beyond."

He served as VP, Acquisitions and Commercial Real Estate at Public Storage and was responsible for the firm's U.S. CRE portfolio. Previously he was SVP and CFO of Watt Companies, Inc.
